"Actually, properly, non-ironically great ...
one of the funniest things I've ever heard"

- The Guardian

We are The Uncertainty Division, a Cambridge-based improvised theatre group. We couldn't do what we do without your help - our audiences are as much a part of our shows as we are. But without financial support, we can't carry on, and so we'd like to ask for a bit more help from you, if you can give it.

The Friends of The Uncertainty Division

By joining, you will be helping to support:

- our critically acclaimed theatre shows
- our smaller scale, cabaret work
- our workshops and educational outreach activities.

As a Bronze member you will receive the following benefits:

- e-mail newsletter
- invitations to Friends events (workshops, preview performances, etc.)
- priority booking and exclusive ticket offers.

As a Gold or Silver member you will additionally receive:

- invitations to Premium Friends events
- acknowledgement on our website and in all programmes
- discounts on hiring the group for your party or event (Gold members only).

If you are interested in larger personal or corporate sponsorship, please e-mail us to discuss the range of benefits we offer (sponsorship@uncertaintydivision.org).
